Notes for ALFRED "THE GREAT" KING OF ENGLAND:

Reigned from 871-899 and was one of the outstanding figures of English history. Born the younger son of King Ethelwulf. Alfred became King on the death of his brother, Ethelred, during the invasion of the Danes. He made peace with the Danes but they continued their marauding expeditions 5 years later, and by 878 they were successful almost everywhere. About Easter 878 Alfred began assembling an army. In the middle of 878 he defeated the Danes and captured their stronghold. If it had not been for this victory Christianity would have been wiped out in England. During the following 14 years he was able to devote himself to the affairs of the kingdom. By 866 he had captured London and was recognized as the King of England. In 893 the Danes invaded again in 893 and warfare continued for 4 years, but eventually were forced to withdraw. His skill as a ruler to be successful in resisting Danish invasions, made his kingdom the rallying point for all Saxons. His reign was the foundation for the unification of England. He rebuilt London which had been partly destroyed by the Danes. He was a patron of learning and did much for the education of his people. He began a court school where British and foreign scholars, notably the Welsh monk, Asser and Irish-born philosopher and theologian, Scotus Erigena, to come there. He translated such works as The Consolation of Philosophy by the philosopher Boethius, the History of the World by the Spanish priest Paulus Orosius, and the Care by Pope Gregory I. Alfred's laws were the first that made no distinction between the English and the Danes. He died at the age of 51, but was not a true King of England as he ruled less than 1/2 the island.

Notes for AETHELRED II "THE UNREADY" KING OF ENGLAND:

Reigned from 979-1016; was half brother of Edward, the Martyr. Reign was marked with bitter misadventure. After negotiating a treaty with Richard II, Duke of Normandy (reigned c 996-1026), Ethelred married his sister, Emma. This marriage provided the basis for the subsequent Norman claim to the English throne. Ethelred paid tribute to the plundering Danes, Sweyn I, the Forkbeard, King of Denmark, invaded England in 1013 and proclaimed himself King. In 1014 Ethelred fled to Normandy but returned a few months later on Sweyn's death. Sweyn's son and successor, Canute II, invaded the country a year later and following Sweyn's death, became King of England. Ethelred's sobriquet, "The Unready", is a corruption of the Old English word "unraed" meaning "bad counsel", which is a reference to his misfortunes. His mother killed his half brother, Edward, which is also a reason for his ills.

Notes for HENRY I BEAUCLERC - KING OF ENGLAND:

Henry I (of England) (1068-1135), was the third Norman king of England (1100-1135), and the first son of William the Conqueror. Henry was born in Selby. Because his father, who died in 1087, left no surviving male heir, Henry made several unsuccessful attempts to gain territories on the Continent. On the death of William II in 1100, Henry took advantage of the absence of another brother—Robert, who had been crowned king to the throne—to seize the royal treasury and have himself crowned king at Westminster. Henry secured his position with the nobles and with the church by issuing a charter of liberties that confirmed the feudal rights of the nobles and the rights of the church. In 1101 Robert, who was duke of Normandy, invaded England, but Henry persuaded him to withdraw by promising him a pension and military aid. In 1102 Henry put down a revolt of nobles, who subsequently took refuge in Normandy. In 1106 Henry defeated Robert at Tinchebray, France, in 1106, Henry won the throne. During the rest of his reign, however, he constantly had to put down uprisings that threatened his rule. The conflict between Henry and Anselm, archbishop of Canterbury, over the question of investiture (the appointment of church officials by the king), was settled in 1107 by a compromise giving the king with substantial control in the matter.

Because he had no surviving male heir, Henry was forced to designate his daughter Matilda as his heir. Matilda married Geoffrey Plantagenet. Their son Henry II succeeded to the throne of England in 1154.

After Henry I's death on December 1, 1135, at Lyons-la-Fôret, Normandy, however, Henry's daughter Matilda, who had married Geoffrey Plantagenet, usurped the throne, plunging the country into a protracted civil war that ended only with the accession of Matilda's son, Henry II, in 1154.

The surname, Plantagenet, was originally a nickname of the English royal house of Anjou or ("broom plant"), in reference to the sprig that Geoffrey always wore in his cap. Reigning from the Plantagenet kings, in the main line of descent, were Henry II, Richard I, John, Henry III, Edward II, Edward III, and Richard II; through the house of Lancaster, Henry IV, Henry V, and through the house of York, Edward IV, Edward V, and Richard III.

He married ADRIANA DE WEYDEN⁹⁸ 15 Edinburgh, Scotland. She was born WFT Est. 1495-1520, and died WFT Est. 1546-1609.

He was educated at Cambridge, leaving there about 1525. In about 1526 he took holy orders in the Catholic Church, and from this time on his life was one of turmoil and strife in the religious world. leader of the Anglican Reformation, and paid the penalty by being burned at the stake - his children to witness the ordeal.

Rogers, John

(b. c. 1500, Aston, Staffordshire, Eng. --d. Feb. 4, 1555, Smithfield, London), religious Reformer and the first Protestant martyr of the English queen Mary I's reign. He was the editor of the English Bible published (1537) under the pseudonym Thomas Matthew.

A graduate of the University of Cambridge (1526), he was made rector of Holy Trinity, Queenhithe, London, about 1532 and two years later became a chaplain to English merchants at Antwerp. There the English scholar William Tyndale influenced him to forsake Roman Catholicism for Protestantism. After Tyndale was betrayed and executed in 1536, Rogers combined Tyndale's translation of the Old Testament, which was complete through 2 Chronicles, with the remaining books from the translation by another English scholar, Miles Coverdale, and added Tyndale's New Testament (1526). This version of the complete Bible, which also included Coverdale's translation of the Apocrypha, was first printed in Antwerp in 1537 by one Thomas Matthew; this pseudonym probably was intended to protect Rogers from meeting Tyndale's fate, and the Rogers edition was shortly afterward sold in England. Although Rogers had little to do with the actual translation, he supplied notes and valuable prefaces that constitute the first English commentary on the Bible. His work formed the basis of the Great Bible (1539), from which the Bishops' Bible (1568) and the Authorized, or King James, Version (1611) came.

Rogers returned to England in 1548 from Germany, where he had served a Protestant congregation in Wittenberg, and published a translation of the German Reformer Philipp Melancthon's Considerations of the Augsburg Interim. Appointed a prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral in London in 1551, Rogers was soon made a divinity lecturer. On the accession in 1553 of the Roman Catholic queen, Mary I, he preached an anti-Catholic sermon warning against "pestilent Popery, idolatry, and superstition" and was immediately placed under house arrest. In January 1554 the bishop of London sent him to Newgate, where he was imprisoned for a year. With 10 other prisoners he was brought before a council in Southwark in January 1555 for examination, and within a week he was sentenced to death by burning for heresy.

His genealogy is in the British Museum carrying his lineage to Malcolm III of Scotland and through his wife, Margaret, sister of Edgar Aetheling, to Alfred the Great.

Notes for THOMAS ROGERS:

CALEB JOHNSON WRITES:

Thomas Rogers became a citizen of Leyden, Holland on June 25, 1618 with sponsors William Jeps Wilson, and is called a Camlet-merchant. And just two years later, on April 1, 1620, he sold his home before coming to America on the Mayflower.

Thomas Rogers brought his son Joseph on the Mayflower. Thomas died the first winter, but his son survived. William Bradford in his OF PLYMOUTH PLANTATION writes of Thomas Rogers: "The Thomas Rogers' [children] came over and are married and have many children."

In the 1622 poll tax for Leyden are listed his wife ELSGEN (Alice = Dutch), and daughters Lysbet and Grietgen (Margaret), and son John. John Rogers is known to have come to America and married; unfortunately the whereabouts of Elizabeth and Margaret remain unknown, though Bradford seems to indicate they came to America and married.

The often published descent of Thomas Rogers from John Rogers the Martyr is complete fiction. Rogers' true English origins were discovered about 1989 by Clifford Scott and published with supporting documentation in THE GENEALOGIST 10:138-149. Thomas Rogers was the son of William and Margaret Rogers, and grandson of William and John Rogers. Thomas' marriage to Alice Cosford and his children's baptisms are all found in the parish registers of Watford, Northampton, England.

He married ISABELL BRAND 25 Aug 1717. She was born Bet. 1695 - 1705, and died 25 Apr 1754 in NC.

Notes for PELEG ROGERS:

Four of five sons of Peleg: Thomas, Job, James and Peleg, identified by association in Duplin Co NC November 1768, Sampson Co SC, Deed Book 4, page 155, John Rogers of Craven County, SC gave power of attorney to his brother Thomas Rogers of Black River. The power of attorney was v Peleg Rogers. Source: Research Data on Peleg Rogers, compiled by David H. Robertson of Snellville, GA, Sep 1997.

June 20, 1729: Peleg Rogers of Westerly, Rhode Island (card waiver) deeded 167 acres of land to Job Rogers of South Kinston, Rhode Island.

Peleg Rogers settled in Duplin County, NC, which was cut from New Hanover County. Peleg rear family that settled in other counties of North Carolina, such as: New Hanover, Sampson, Wake, Edgecombe, and others.

1734 Robert Warren deeded 300 acres on Horse Swamp in Bertie County, NC to Peleg Rogers.

1745 Peleg Rogers was patented (granted) 400 acres on Town Creek, Edgecomb County, NC

January 31, 1759 Peleg Rogers wrote his "father" in Westerly, Rhode Island. He mentioned that he had a brother, Job; that Job had a wife and two sons; that his wife, Isabell, had died April 25, 1754; and that he had two sons and three daughters, of which four of his children were married. (See letter dated October 7, 1759, Bob McCrary to David H. Robertson citing Elizabeth F. McKoy, "Early New Hanover Records"; a collection, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC.

The letter Peleg wrote and other documents connected with it provide an enormous amount of information and clues on the Rogers Family. Although the salutation in the letter is "Honored Father", it was addressed to THOMAS BRAND. Therefore, the letter may actually be to the father-in-law of Peleg rather than father. Much of the information is connected to a lawsuit entitled Saunders v. Baker litigated in New Hanover County, NC and involves a lot of references to the Brand family. If Isabell Rogers predeceased her father, Thomas Brand, then the estate records of Thomas Brand, if extant, could conclusively prove the children of Thomas Brand. The fact that Job is mentioned as having two sons tends to identify Job who died in Wake County, NC, brother of Peleg. Four of the five sons of Peleg, to-wit, Thomas, Job, James, and Peleg, are identified by association in the Duplin County, NC area. The fifth son is probably either Samuel, of Duplin County, NC, or Benjamin of Bertie County, NC. Benjamin is the better bet at this time as Isabell Rogers had a brother, Thomas Brand (named for their Uncle Benjamin Babcock). Furthermore, upon the death of Benjamin Rogers in Bertie County, NC, his son Reuben settled very near Thomas Rogers (his uncle?) in New Hanover County, NC.

NOTE: The references to Peleg and Job Rogers in Johnston County, NC at first are very puzzling because they appear to be living in adjacent Duplin County, NC before and after the deed references. This is explained by the fact that Job of Duplin County is the son of Peleg of Duplin County and Peleg of Johnston County is the son of Job of Johnston/Wake County.

I mentioned earlier today, the Horton's were Baptists and moved with their community (and minister) to Guysborough County.

A county genealogy page explains:

"English presence at Chedabucto started by the 1760's with the arrival of the "Nine Old Settlers". Capitan Joseph Hadley received a grant of land at Chedabucto for his role in the Seig of Louisburg. Others who came from New England including the Callahans, Cooks, Godfreys, Horton's, Ingersol, Pearts, and Tobys settled on a piece of land at the head of Chedabucto Bay bordered on one side by Cook's Cove and on the other by Ingersol's Cove. To this settlement they gave the name Milford and to the harbour just inside Hadley's beach the name Milford Haven was given. Today it is known as Guysborough Harbour but the river flowing from the Intervale is still called the Milford Haven River."

That's from <http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Acres/6783/HISTORY.HTM> - a site I highly recommend. Also, check in with Bonnie Douglass, bonniej222@aol.com. She has been a great source of data and direction for me. And as I wrote earlier, it sounds like A.C. Jost's book is a must-read. Glad to see it's one of your sources -- I didn't know it was available on microfilm. I'll have to order it.

LDS file . Julien, born in France in 1669, was a Huguenot who fought at the Battle of the Boyne 1690 and came to America about 1700. Family tradition has him stopping at the island of Bermuda married Mary Bullock. He became a soldier in his youth and was in the army of James II in the English Revolution of 1688. From reasons of preference, he is said to have deserted to the standard of King William along with many others. For his services to King William he was given a grant of land on the Mississippi (another source says it was the James River District in what is now Maryland). His grown children inclined to go to what was then a savage region and they persuaded him to buy land. He went first to the Carolinas, and losing two sons there, he moved to the more healthy region on the Eastern shore of Chesapeake Bay. (There was a colony of French families on the Santee River in South Carolina who migrated about 1712, due to the unhealthy climate. This family may well have been among them.) and his family were living in Cecil County, Maryland, in 1712.

The earliest record of Rene in Bohemia Manor is in 1720 as shown by land leases. The rest of the record from 1712 until 1720 is blank so far as he is concerned, except for the record of the birth of his son Isaac which appears in the Register of St. Ann's Parish at Annapolis which is now in the hall of Records

Rene and Mary had seven sons and three daughters who grew up in Bohemia Manor. Whether or not all were born there is uncertain. It is known that the two daughters were married there, and it is probable that the other children were also. By 1737, when Rene assigned his lease in Bohemia Manor to Henry McCracken, 17 years old. It is assumed that this was the date of his going to Winchester, Frederick County, Virginia; he was still living in 1744, the last documentary date of him known to exist. It is thought that he and his wife were in old Opequon Cemetery near Winchester (land for this cemetery was given by William Hoge, into which his son Isaac married).

Shortly after Braddock's defeat in 1755, during the French and Indian War, the five sons who went to Winchester from Bohemia Manor, fled with their families due to terror of the Indians to Orange County, North Carolina (which later became Randolph and Guilford County), where they took land grants. Two sons accompanied Rene to Winchester, remaining in Maryland, Stephen (who is named in the lease from Augustus Herman to Rene in 1720) and Jacob. They moved to Prince George's County, Maryland, where the last of them appears in 1743.

Rene Julien in America became a slave holder and a Presbyterian, and hated the Quakers for their opposition to war and slavery. He was large and tall and said to have red hair and to have been a person of a fiery disposition. Among present generations of his descendants, many branches have red-haired men. Mary Bullock Julien was said to have been a great lady. She was of Spanish descent. Search of Bermuda records to reveal her marriage to Rene but evidence seems to point to her having been a daughter of Captain Bullock who came from a Quaker family. If this is correct, the attitude of Rene and Mary must have been conflicted. Some of their descendants in North Carolina became Quakers.

Descendants of Rene and Mary include many statesmen, teachers, ministers, lawyers and doctors.

Notes for GEORGE JULIAN:

[Genealogy.com, LLC WFT Vol. 48, Ed. 1, Tree #0264, Date of Import: Jun 17, 2001]

It is believed that George was injured in the battle at the Fort of Dorchester and died of his wound on considerable land (both grants and purchased). He moved to Guilford, North Carolina and land joined his brother, Issac's. At least two sons Fought in the Rev. War.

This George was a loyalist. Some records seem to state that his lands were confiscated for political reasons but others do not support this. "Estate not confiscated, but sold, 1788 by administrator Jacob Julian to his heirs" In regards to his death: 1/18/1782, Jemina Ponder's affidavit said: She did live at the C House below Dorchester and that George Julian who did live on King's Creek in District above and she said despondent did see the said George Julian depart this life between the first and ninth of September in the year 1781.

The following taken from the Wilson County Citizen - 1955:

82 Years in Kansas Fills Memory of Mrs. O'Brien. Mrs. Jim O'Brien, well-known resident of this month will celebrate her 87th birth anniversary, and of those 87 years she has resided in Illinois, seeing the prairie change from treeless plains and tiny sod houses to rich farmland and modern cities. She relates interestingly her experiences, coming to Kansas from Edgar County, Illinois. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodgers, one of eleven children. Only three of the eleven are now living. The family first settled near Osawatomie, but two years later moved to a farm on the Marias Des Moines River near Melvern. One of her earliest memories is playing with her brothers and sisters on the barbed wire Creek, where they fished for bass with hooks made of bent pins, and they caught a plentiful supply of the streams in that pioneer era were alive with them.

Just across the river from their home, in a graceful bend in the stream was the Sac and Fox Indian camp. They were friendly Indians and liked to trade with her father. She recalls a worn path, made by the Indians, on one side of their home, and at almost any hour of the day the children would see Indians pass by. The Rodgers children had a fat dog named "Cap" and it was a constant torture to the Sac and Fox Indians. The Rodgers would not consider a trade for the dog, who would have made fine soup for the Indians. To the delight of her brother, Will Rodgers, now of Cowgill, Missouri to visit the Indian camp. He would give the coins and the camp silversmith would make them into rings and trinkets for the Rodgers children. The children were at the camp at mealtime and would watch the squaws break hunks of dough into balls of boiling fat, and it would smell so good the children could hardly resist eating, but they would not and refuse the offering of food. She recalls one hot, cloudy day when the children were playing in the camp, and all at once they began running about fastening down their tents and lashing down the poles about the village. The old chief told the white children to hurry home "heap big storm coming." They saw no signs of a storm, but had to obey. That morning a cyclone struck nearby, but missing the Rodgers family, who went to investigate the damage. It was a terrible tragedy and one infant was found dead.

sorrow that the Rodgers children saw the Indians move onto reservations in Oklahoma, but one of the Indians would come back to their old camp. She remembers the soldiers coming for the mounted the run-away Indians on horses and returned them to Oklahoma. The chief often worked with the soldiers, who had to make him mount at gun point.

After her marriage to James O'Brien, she accompanied him to Saline and Ness counties, assisting in building the new railroads. They traveled by covered wagon and the trails were rarely few and far between. The winter was extremely cold and one time they were overtaken by a blizzard just six miles from the grading camp. The horses had to be blanketed to keep them from freezing. The next morning the snow was drifted eight to ten feet deep between the wagon and the houses where they had taken refuge. A short distance from there a family in a covered wagon froze to death. For two years the O'Briens never saw the inside of a house, living in the wagon or a tent. After completing the railroad, Mr. O'Brien worked on a ranch for eleven years, and in that time purchased a few cows. When he moved to Wilson County 58 years ago, he sold his cattle for $12 a head.

Mrs. O'Brien is the mother of eight children, has 18 grandchildren, 23 great grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren. She stated that she is very proud of her family, and has many happy hours. Her interesting life furnishes her many memories, and the hardships now seem like a great part of her life.

COPY OF LTR WRITTEN BY MARY ANN FRAZIER MAYER IN 1900

Mary Ann Frazier Mayer(bca. 1819 d after 1880) m Jacob Mayer moved to Williamson Co. Ia in 1864. He died that year, as did their second daughter, who was nineteen years of age and had been only five months. Mary and her husband had nine children all living to maturity. In the following letter she wrote to her brother, Franklin Tennessee Frazier Sr. in Greene county, Mo. on 4-1-1880, she speaks of her hardships after the death of her husband.

note: spelling and grammar are as she wrote them.

"My dear brother, I have seated myself to write you a letter but I have got so nervous I can hardly write. I can read it John's family are all well I am as well as common for I am hardly ever well. I am very weak with rheumatism and then I am going on sixty one years now and can not expect to feel like I once did. It has been so long since I seen you or even heard from that I hardly know how to address you. Well brother you wrote a history of your family which I was glad to get for I did not know more about it. I do not have such a brother in the world that seems very unnatural no further apart than we have been. We used to care so little for one another and I do hope we can do better in the future well brother I have nine children. I have raised them all to be grown we lost our second daughter in her nineteenth year. She had been married that was in sixty four the year we moved to this state her father died on the 18 and her on the 22nd. It was unnecessary my brother for me to try to tell the heartbreak and trouble I seen at that time for words cannot express it I was left in a strange land with five little children to raise without a father to help raise them. I never been without a home before but I had had a family it seemed to me that there was not a gleam of light in my eyes upon that the closet of adversity had obscured everything. It is not any satisfaction to me but that it would not do to give up I also found that there was more responsibility resting on me than ever before. I have exerted every energy of mind and body to try to raise my children industrious and honest which they allways tried to do you know my brother that I had a kind husband but and all wise providence saw fit to take him from me and I had to be resigned to his will but never, however, have I done missing him though he is sixteen years yet his memory is dear to my heart but thank God my children has never done anything wrong sleeping dust I have got four sons they are all respectable honest men they are all married and making a living for their families they have not wealth to boast on but they have got enough to live on the way it is by their investing (_?_) in what I call an honest living.

Well brother you note a good deal about your losses in the war times well I have no doubt but that is the truth but then I had nothing to do with bringing on the cruel war though we had to suffer from the loss of being one of their number as much in proportion to what we had as you did for if we had been worth as much to us as if we owned more they taken our meat and bread and not only taken it from us but from our little children but come in to my house with armed force and made me cook for them tell I was vain they left me no cock to crow nor dog to bark it is true they not free no negroes for us for thank God that is one sin I will never have to report for they are free and I did not free them but I am glad that for I believe it is written for I think that slavery has been a curse to the United States you said that you were in the south educated so was I my brother but that is no reason that I would stick to that that was no reason the south brought a calamity on themselves who is to blame for it brother if you had not been of _____? _____ thing to lighten this question would never have been named for I think so as you want you to take what I have said just like you expected me to take what you said there is a little fruit yet and I think I can take a hint I did not expect when I grasped the letter that I was so glad to get that the letter would be on the war more than anything else now brother Frank you need not get sassy you commenced it well that is just enough on the subject I want you to write to me where brother William where his address is so I can write to him also I want to know what was the matter with brother Lafayette Amanda Bonds children is she had by Mat Aron and how many children she had by her last husband tell your Sam that letter that he promised to write to his old Aunt now brother I want you to come and see me you could come if you wanted to see me as bad as I want to see you you are able to come and you can travel without a protector and I can't and if you come and see me I want you to send me your picture my children express a great desire to see their Uncle Frank brother be shore and send it to me if I have and could travel like a man I would see my three brothers and sister before twelve months but I can't so you are able to get on the cars and come and see me and I surely think you will bring my uninterbe fully realized and when you are done with the (___?___) of life may happiness and prosperity attend you you go and when your declining son shall sink below the horizon of this world may it rise brightly brilliantly in a world of immortality.

No More but remain

your affectionate sister

tele deathe. Mary A. Mayer

Mary was reared in early days of Henry Co., Tennessee. At that time opportunities for education, for girls, must have been very limited, so the letter is even more a treasure. Although it is almost one hundred years old and some of the words are no longer legible, the penmanship is very good. Especially of interest are comments about the Civil War when her family sided with the North while her brother, Franklin T. Frazier Sr. allied himself with the cause of the South, for which he suffered greatly. His eldest son died in the war, and he had to abandon his property in Missouri.

In 1880, according to the Williamson Co., IL. census, Mary Mayer was living with the John White family (his wife Drucilla and sons Edgar and Elroy) a farmer in Union Precinct. Drucilla age 22 was Mary's daughter. Also listed on this census are the family of Julian Mayer age 38 (his wife Frances Susan A., Sarah, Thomas, William, Melvin) and the family of John Mayer 37 (his wife Sarah 36 and sons Jacob, Aderson, and Lincoln). Julian and John may have been sons of Mary Mayer.

Professor D. R. Frazier has the letter from which this was copied. He is sharing it is very much appreciated.

Notes for THOMAS JEFFERSON MAYER:
Creal Spring, Ill. March 26, 1925

Some geneological information that might be of interest to my children and grandchildren, after we have passed. I will give the facts as they have come to me from the generation that have passed on. Grandfather, John Mayer, was born in Germany in the latter part of 17th Century, date not known to me. He came to America in the year 1818. His family consisted of three sons and one daughter. He as a weaver had three sons were, (commencing with the oldest,) William, Jacob, and George. The daughter's name I do not think. After landing in New York he migrated into Ohio, passing through West Tenn, where he adopted two younger boys Jacob and Geo. Jacob to a man named Jas. Cowen who was in the mercantile business and to the Silversmith trade. Geo. afterwards went to Mississippi, Holly Springs, where he was when he died, perhaps. William, the eldest boy went to Ohio with his father. Jacob Mayer, my father, was born in Germany in the yr. 1808. He was 10yr old when he came to America, that being the yr my Mother was born in Knoxville, Tenn. Nov. 15, 1818. My father, Jacob Mayer, served the years of his apprenticeship with Cowen until he was married to my Mother, Mary Ann Frazier who had moved with her parents to Caloway Co. near Paris, West Tenn. They were married Nov. 23rd 1837 and settled in the wilds of western Kentucky. To this marriage was born 4 boys and 5 girls. The boys, in the order of their age, are Julian, John, Thomas, and George. The Girls, Melvinia, Sarah, Elza, Alice and Drucilla. One bro. John, and all the girls but the youngest have passed on before. At the time of this writing three of us Julian age 84, James 78, and Thomas, 72 are living. Also Drucilla the youngest girl, age 67. I have now brought the record down to you so they can be obtained from your own family records.

The writer of this record, Thomas J. Mayer was born in Caloway Co. Ky, May 20, 1852, was converted and came to Illinois in Jan, 1872, was married to Priscilla Willeford Nov. 7, 1875. United with the Baptist Church in Cana Wn'si Co. in 1877. To this marriage of the writer and wife were born 11 children; 5 of whom are living; six are living at this writing; four boys and two girls. The boys in the order of their age are Jacob, Harley and John; the girls, Mattie and Ruby.

My wife was converted and united with the same church as the writer. We shall soon have lived to see I feel that I have not many days to stay here. My health is all gone. My hope is in the Christ of Caloway. Glad I remembered my Creator in the days of my youth. This is now July 27, 1926. I am not to stay longer without some change takes place very soon. We have journeyed on life's pathway a half century. Hope our separation will not be long.

Oh Father! save us all in glory thru the blood of the Everlasting Covenant. the 'everlasting covenant. When I shall have passed, if it suit the rest of you that are left behind, h

Correction: William was the youngest son and went to Ohio with his father and Roxana. They had a

Notes for THOMAS JEFFERSON MAYER:

Some geneological information that might be of interest to my children and grandchildren, after we have passed. I will give the facts as they have come to me from the generation that have passed on. Grandfather, John Mayer, was born in Germany in the latter part of 17th Century, date not know to to America in the year 1818. His family consisted of three sons and one daughter. He as a weaver three sons were, (commencing with the oldest,) William, Jacob, and George. The daughter's name think. After landing in New York he migrated into Ohio, passing through West Tenn, where he ap two younger boys Jacob and Geo. Jacob to a man named Jas. Cowen who was in the mercantile bu to the Silversmith trade. Geo. afterwards went to Mississippi, Holly Springs, where he was when t broke, perhaps. William, the eldest boy went to Ohio with his father. Jacob Mayer, my father, wa Germany in the yr. 1808. He was 10yr old when he came to America, that being the yr my Mother Knoxville, Tenn. The boys in the order of their age ar Jacob, Harley and John; the firls, Mattie and Ruby.

My wife was converted and united with the same church as the writer. WE shall soon have lived to I feel that I have not many days to stay here. My health is all gone. My hope is in the Christ of Ca glad I remembered my Creator in the days of my youth. This is now July 27, 1926. I am not to sta longer without some change takes place very soon. We have journeyed on life's pathway a half cen 7th. Hope our separation will not be long.
