

Descendants of George Wolfe

Generation No. 1

1. GEORGE¹ WOLFE died 1809. He married MRS. GEORGE WOLFE Unknown. She was born Unknown, and died Bef. 1790.

Notes for GEORGE WOLFE:

George Wolfe lived in Haines Twp., Pa. In the Northumberland County Deed Book A, there are two mentions of George. The first is an indenture in which George buys 247 acres from Eli Holeman. The second, dated 1790, is another indenture and lists h as a widower. Since Daniel was the last son we have record of, and he was born in 1781, we can assume that his wife died between 1781 and 1790.

The book "Haines Township Life & Tradition" by Barbara Anderson (c. 1976,p7) has a map of the original land grants of Haines Township. Included is the plot of Melchior Wolfe, just east of Aaronsburg. From the location, it appears as if the Wolfe Chapel Cemetery was probably on the northeast corner of the plot. I don't know if Melchior was another name for George, a relative of George's, or what. (Don Moore).

Notes for EVA WOLFE:

There is a baptism certificate done in the Dutch fraktur style in the Centre County Historical Society and Museum for Eva.

Eva Wolfe and David Weaver/Weber had at least one child, Maria Magdalena Weber, who was baptized at the Aaronsburg Lutheran Church, Pa., in 1825. She was born 22 Aug 1825 and baptized 6 Nov 1825. Her sponsors were John and Catherine Lutz.

Undoubtedly, this was Catherine Wolf, daughter of George Valentine Wolf, and her husband, John Lutz. Something is wrong with these dates. This would have made Eva 63 years old when she had her daughter!!!

GEORGE VALENTINE WOLFE:

George and his wife Christina lived in Haines Twp., Centre Co., Pa. Will Book 8, p. 85 Haines Twp. lists brother Anthony as Executor; children: Catherine, Johannes, George, Sarah, David, Mary, Susanna, Jacob, and wife Christina.

George Valentine Wolf's wife was named Christina. However, the Commemorative Biographical write-up lists George Valentine Wolfe and his wife Sally Wise. George Valentine Wolf was one of the co-founders of the Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church in Aaronsburg, Pa. The cornerstone of this church was laid on May 1, 1794. The first funeral there was for Paul Wolf, who died June 6, 1822. He was the son of Michael Wolf. George and Christina were very active in the church and they sponsored numerous baptisms.

George Valentine Wolf's wife, Christina, died in 1857 in Haines township, Centre County, Pa. Her estate is #4820 and the original is filed in the basement archives of the Centre County Historical Society library in Bellefonte, Pa. Inventory was filed 18 Jan 1858. She left items for George and Polly Harter, her daughter, and Henry Royer. Henry's wife was Susanna, her daughter. Susanna was dead by 1857 and had left two children, Rachel and Thomas E. Royer. Also mentioned are David, Johannes, Jacob Wolf. All presumed alive at that time. Robert, son of Michael Wolf deceased, and Daniel Wolf deceased. Her mother was mentioned and also Sofia Minnich. In fact, however, her son David may have died just before she did. She was buried in fifth row of Wolf's Chapel Cemetery with George, Daniel and Anna.

Notes for SARAH ELIZABETH WOLFE:
SARAH ELIZABETH WOLFE:

Sarah taught Sunday School for many years. She was very religious and very opposed to liquor of any sort, and would not allow it in her home; although some, but not all, of her children were known to enjoy some alcoholic beverages upon occasion. Sarah was heard to say on one occasion, "Not in the front door!--not in the back!--no beer in this house!!!", when her youngest daughter, Mary, and Mary's husband, tried to bring some beer into her home for a party. Unfortunately, many of her children did not share her same views. She was very strict with her children.

In her older years, her hair was gray, and she wore it in a bun on the top of her head. She had brown eyes and a fair complexion.
SARAH ELIZABETH WOLFE, b. 1858:

Sarah moved to Philadelphia with her husband, Ammon Miller Greninger, and their children, in 1900. Ammon died in 1901 of typhoid fever shortly after moving to Philadelphia.

The last time I remember seeing Grandmom Greninger (Sarah) was when I was 6 years old. She was bedfast. Her lower eyelids were taped down because her eyelashes were curled up and irritating her eyes.

He was born 20 June 1868 in Buffalo, N.Y., and died 11 April 1934 in Parma, Ohio.

Notes for TALITHA CUMI SCHRECKENGAST:

"My father recalls Talitha saying she was visiting a friend in Johnstown, Pa., when that horrible flood occurred - Alice".

TALITHA C. SHRECKENGAST - 1869-1931

Talitha Cuma (Cumi) Shreckengast was born 11 Oct. 1869 the daughter of Alfred Ammon Shreckengast and Samantha Lutz. Her mother died when Talitha was 4 years old and when she was 9 years old her father married Agnes Pruella Greninger, They had a son Charles H. Talitha's half brother, of whom she was very fond.

Talitha made her childhood sound like fun when re-telling stories to her sons; She liked to attend the dances in the Valley, telling one story of how she danced so much that after the dance she took off her shoes and stockings to walk home barefoot. It was noted in the 1880 Census that Talitha had the measles.

Another story her son Jess remembered was that Talitha was visiting a friend in Johnston, Pa. when the flood of 1889 occurred.

While working as a domestic at her aunts boarding house in Lock Haven, Pa., Talitha met a teamster from Jamestown, New York, by the name of John Martin Rolland. They married in Rebersburg, Pa. 8 July 1893. Returned to Jamestown, N.Y. where their first son, William Alfred Rolland was born 9 June 1894, They then lived in Tylersville a short while before moving on to Youngstown and Cleveland, Ohio, eventually settling on a small 55 acre farm in Parma, Ohio. John was employed for awhile as a railroad switchman, then a general builder contractor, Their second son, Jesse Waiter Rolland was born 11 June 1909 in Cleveland, Ohio.

Talitha was the disciplinarian, My father recalled that she chased him until he ran up a tree, but she waited for him to come down and used the tree "switch" on him for whatever his transgression was.

Their farm was quite self-sufficient, They had a cow, team of horses, chickens, apple orchard, grape vineyard, sassafras and mulberry trees, crab apple and plum trees, elderberries, wild blackberries and strawberries, a vegetable garden, well water, I remember Talitha making cottage cheese and leaving the bag of curd and whey hanging on the clothes line, letting the whey drip to the ground. She also made the most delicious kuchen, apple, plum or plain streusel. In the Springtime the carpets were taken up, hung over a clothes line and beaten by hand with a paddle shaped wire rug beater - terrible chore. They also made their own sauerkraut, canned fruits, vegetables, & jams. Even made their own root beer.

Talitha began complaining about back aches and allowed a chiropractor to come to her home for back treatments, By the time her sons could convince her to see an M.D. it was too late, She had uterine cancer which had spread throughout her entire body. Her husband John would not let anyone take care of her but himself, We were living with them at the time, and our parents did everything to help John in his care of Talitha, I remember making some butterscotch candy, Grandma's favorite, which did not turn out very well (just a kid learning to cook)- I took the candy to her bedroom and she thanked me for it, The next thing I remember is my father telling us that Grandma had died, the date being 1 November 1931, I thought my candy was the cause of her death because the plate was empty (someone probably threw the candy out when I wasn't looking), Grandma weighed about 65 pounds when she died. We were sent to our aunts house because Grandma was laid out at her home for others to pay their respects (a custom then plus a large wreath hanging on the front door), before burial at the York Road and Pleasant Valley Road cemetery, John died from heart disease 11 April 1934 and is buried next to Talitha.

A letter to Eva from Hattie Karchner, Mar. 24, 1953, from Mill Hall Market St.,PA.:
"Dear Eva, It has been a long time since we heard from you. Hope you are all well. Today my baby Ruth is 39. She sure is a good girl. Henry has been quite ill since Dec. This is the 6th week he has been bed-fast. His mental condition is very bad. His strength is failing too. Am sending you a memory of one of our school mates. I was just to see Gertie Mary Grenniger, she is not good. Esther died in Dec. We sure had a nice winter, very little cold weather. The early flowers are in bloom. I just don't know much news to write, but Russel & his family & Herbs wife are well. Write soon as am anxious to hear how you are. If we live till the 16th, May, we will celebrate our 60th wedding Anniversary. Long in yrs, but short in life. Love Hattie."

This letter was postmarked from Mill Hall, PA, Mar.24, 1953, to Eva R. Winters of 1650 Santa Lucia Dr., San Jose, CA.

I found Gertrude Macy Greninger, b 14-Nov-1875, Esther Cuni Greninger, b 24-Jul-1879 in the "Decendants of Anthony Bierly and his wife", by Suzanne Walkowiak Rice. I did not find Hattie Karcher in that Family Tree Book.

"Tylersville Topics" that appeared in the December 28, 1922 edition of the Lock Haven Express had an interesting story regarding the Christmas entertainment at Logan Mills. It reads...."The entertainment held at Logan Mills on Friday evening was we attended and would have been a success had it not been for the disturbance raised by a set of drunken boys said to be from Loganton and Greenburr." That's good. It couldn't have been "our boys."

Oral legend has it that, "Grandpa Ruhl's homestead in the valley was once his uncles place where a log cabin was. His uncle bought the log cabin from an Indian that lived in the "Gap.""

Original Baptismal record shows that Amanda Rebecca WOLFE, the daughter of William E. WOLFE and his wife Chestie, born on the 23rd day of September 1881, was baptized on the 27th day of November in the year of our lord 1881. Sponsors were her paren with the Rev. William M. Landis pastor of the Reformed Church presiding.

On March 8, 1928 Amanda Rebecca Ruhl signed a contract and power of attorney with Samuel H. Waltz and Dawson W. Light, Esq., and notarized by Joe W. Bressler, Justice of the Peace. Apparently Amanda was a decendent of John Nicholas Emerick a fur trader and partner of John Jacob Astor and she was suing for her share of the estate.

"Coroner Roy L. Bryerton gave the cause of death as a coronary occlusion. Mrs. RUHL suffered a stroke last May and had been a hospital patient at that time. It was because of her health that the RUHLs went last fall to live in South Avis."

"Mrs. RUHL, a daughter of William and Christine CARIS WOLFE, had lived in Tylersville since her birth there. She was a member of the Reformed church in that community."

A funeral notice in the same newspaper indicated that the funeral was conducted by the Morris Funeral Home, Loganton with the Rev. Bruce D. HATT of Rebersburg officiating. Interment was to be in the Union Cemetery in Tylerville.

"Tylersville Topics" that appeared in the December 28, 1922 edition of the Lock Haven Express had an interesting story regarding the Christmas entertainment at Logan Mills. It reads...."The entertainment held at Logan Mills on Friday evening was well attended and would have been a success had it not been for the disturbance raised by a set of drunken boys said to be from Loganton and Greenburr." That's good. It couldn't have been "our boys."

Oral legend has it that, "Grandpa Ruhl's homestead in the valley was once his uncle's place where a log cabin was. His uncle bought the log cabin from an Indian that lived in the "Gap"..

Samuel Kinley Greninger, born 1875.

Sam was my grandfather's oldest brother (which made him my great-uncle). Sam and Sarah Catharine "Kate" Diehl were divorced. "Kate" later married Israel Greninger. As far as I know, they didn't have any children. Sam did have children from his other two marriages, and some children born out-of-wedlock. He was quite a character and loved the ladies! I don't know what he had, but it must have been something!!! I only knew him in his later years, when I was just a young girl. Those "wild days" were over for him then. I heard that one of his wives pushed him down some stairs and he injured his back pretty bad. It always gave him trouble after that. His marriages were rather stormy! His drinking probably didn't help either! He wound up living in the basement of his mother's house in Philadelphia in his later years. I knew his daughter, Helen (Sarah Helen Greninger). On April 21, 1913, the Orphans' Court for the County of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, appointed John W. Conley, as Guardian of the Estate of Sarah Helen Greninger, minor child of Ada H. and Samuel K. Greninger. Said minor was an heir to the estate of her grandfather, John Marshall Heverly. The amount of the inheritance was only $167.13. I don't know why neither of her parents were appointed as her Guardian. As far as I know, Helen never married. She had an affair with a dentist that she worked for that went on for many, many years. I don't know whatever became of Marilyn, Sam's younger daughter. ("Bonnie" is what the family called her). There was a big age difference between Helen and Bonnie. I only saw Bonnie a couple of times at Grandmom Greninger's house on Warren Street. I believe Helen lived with Sam's mother and his sisters at the house at 5201 Warren Street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she was young.

244. EDWARD AMON⁶ GRENINGER, SR. (SARAH ELIZABETH⁵ WOLFE, SAMUEL⁴, JOHN (JOHANNES)³, ANTHONY², GEORGE¹) was born 05 May 1883 in Logan Twp., Centre Co., Pa., and died 19 December 1964 in Bryn Mawr Hosp., Montgomery Co., Pa.. He married MARY BERNICE TAYLOR Abt. 1906 in Philadelphia, Phila. Co., Pa., daughter of SAMUEL TAYLOR and KATHERINE TWADELL. She was born 19 March 1886 in Philadelphia, Phila. Co., Pa., and died 21 January 1965 in

Bryn Mawr Hosp., Montgomery Co., Pa..

Notes for EDWARD AMON GRENINGER, SR.:

Edward was 6' tall; brown hair; brown eyes; and a fair complexion. He was a natural athlete. He played on a baseball team in Phila., Pa. He loved to play horse shoes. He was a bartender for many years, and later worked at Auto-Car Co., Ardmore, Pa., as a tool and die maker. He was a staunch Republican and served as a Committeeman in Phila., Pa.

Edward grew up in Logan Township. When he was nearly 18 years old, he went with most of his family to live in Philadelphia. His brother, Samuel, remained in Green Township, Centre County, with his own wife and daughter. Samuel later moved to Philadelphia. Thomas was married and had two or three children. Thomas, and his family, moved to Denver, Colorado, where Thomas contracted tuberculosis and died, while still a young man.

Edward's father, Amon Miller Greninger, had invented the switch-track for the railroad, and this took him, and his family, to Philadelphia, to further his ambitions. Not long after they arrived in Philadelphia, his father contracted typhoid fever and died on July 2, 1901.

When I was born, in 1939, my grandfather, Edward, was 56 years old. I remember him to have been about 6' tall; medium build; brown eyes; square jaw; and a full head of brownish gray hair. I last saw him in 1959, when he was 76 years old. This was just prior to moving to California with my parents. My grandfather died five years later, at the age of 81.

Edward married Mary Bernice Taylor, about 1906, at Philadelphia, Pa. She was the daughter of Samuel Taylor and Katherine Twadell. Edward and Mary were blessed with four children, to wit: Edward Amon, Jr., b. 12 Aug. 1907, (Never married); Hazel Mae b. 23 Mar, 1911, md. George Bragg; Marion Charlotte, b. 19 Mar, 1913, (Never married); and Robert Allen, b. 21 Mar, 1915, md. Elinore M. Rickard.

Edward's mother, Sarah Elizabeth Wolfe Greninger, was violently opposed to liquor of any sort, and would not allow it in her home; although some, but not all, of her children were known to enjoy some alcoholic beverages upon occasion. Sarah Elizabeth was heard to say on one occasion, "Not in the front door--not in the back--no beer in this house", when her youngest daughter, Mary, and Mary's husband, tried to bring some beer into her home for a party.

Edward worked as a Bartender for many years at John Conley's Bar at 62nd and Vine Streets, Philadelphia. The family lived at 63rd and Callahill Sts., and in the 300 block of Felton St., across from the Lady of Rosary Catholic Church.

Edward was a staunch Republican! He took much verbal abuse from his neighbors, when he proudly displayed the campaign signs of the Republican Candidates on his property, which was situated in the middle of a very Democratic vicinity. He was a strong, stubborn German, and intent on helping the Philadelphia G.O.P. organization. The Philadelphia Republican machine was strictly professional, fashioned after the Democratic organizations of Hague in Jersey City, and Kelly in Chicago. In its set-tos with F.D.R., it showed remarkable ability to roll with the punch and come back strong in city elections. When its henchmen found they couldn't lick Roosevelt, they shrewdly bowed to the inevitable, kept the good will of their constituents, and got them back in the G.O.P. fold when they needed them most--at the city elections. The structure of the Republican city organization followed the familiar pattern. There were thirteen hundred and forty-eight election divisions, each averaging about seven hundred and fifty voters and manned by two, twenty-five hundred to five-thousand-dollars-a-year, committeemen. Edward was one of these committeemen. In their neighborhoods or areas, these committeemen were supreme. They were "on the job" all the time--three hundred and sixty-five days a year--doing favors for constituents, from getting them jobs to having parking tickets fixed, and bailing them out of jail, etc. This personal service paid off on election day. In hundreds of well-organized Philadelphia divisions, the people did not vote for policies or candidates, but for "Joe, the committeeman"; or in our case, "Ed, the Committeeman". Frequently, the Committeemen, would even do the people the favor, on election day, of marking their ballots or pulling the voting machine lever for them. The divisions were lumped into fifty-two wards, some tiny, others as large as good sized towns. Division committeemen elected their ward leaders, jobholders in the upper brackets (five thousand to ten thousand dollars), who in turn, made up the City Committee, members of which were known locally as "The Band of Brothers". The City Committeemen elected the City Chairman, the titled leader of the party, who actually served as chief of staff to "The Big Boss", who may be a rich dilettante, or a professional. In Philadelphia, the "Big Boss" himself had bosses; the bankers, industrialists, and big businessmen, whose money made them a power. With few exceptions, these overlords lived in palatial showplaces in lovely suburbs outside of, and not a part of, the city. They were principally interested in the city as a place to make money--an interest shared in a more modest way by two hundred thousand commuters, who worked in the city and lived in the suburbs only twelve to thirty minutes from City Hall.

About 1933 or 1934, Edward, was able to purchase a large home at 1346 Virginia Avenue, Manoa, Montgomery County Pa. He lived in said home, for over 30 years, with his wife Mary, and his son, Edward, Jr., and his daughter, Marion, both of whom never married. After Edward's death, in 1964, and the death of his wife, Mary, one month later, the family home was sold, and his son, Edward, Jr. got his own apartment in Philadelphia; and his daughter, Marion, rented a small apartment in Lansdowne, Pa., near her sister Hazel.

After many years of tending bar, and working part-time, as a Security Guard, at Woodside Amusement Park, Edward secured a job at the Auto-car Co., in Ardmore, Pa., where he learned to make automobile parts. He worked for Auto-Car Co. until he retired. His son, Edward, Jr., also went to work for the Auto-Car Co., in the parts department, where he also worked until his retirement. His youngest son, Robert "Bob", (my father), likewise went to work for the Auto-Car Co., when he was 20 years old. He worked in the "Model Room" and the "Experimental Lab". Bob possessed an extraordinary creative ability, and it was there that he was given the opportunity to use his inventive talents. He became the youngest foreman in the company's history, at the age of 24. Bob invented the gear-shift on the steering column of the automobile. He also invented the half-track (caterpillar) tank that was used in world War II.

Sometime during the 1940's, Edward developed a tumor on his lung and had to have the lung removed. The surgery was performed at the Bryn Mawr Hospital, Montgomery County, Pa., by the same doctor that had performed this same surgery on the famous "Gossip Columnist"--Louella Parsons. Edward continued to smoke cigarettes without any problems until his death at the age of 80. (He used to roll his own cigarettes too!).

Edward and Mary had a little white dog called "Skipper" for many years that they dearly loved. When I was a young girl, I loved to play with the dog, when I visited my grandparents. There was a big cherry tree in their backyard, and I would climb the tree and pick the cherries. Of course, we would eat some of the cherries and take some home. There was a wooden swing on a rope, hanging from the cherry tree, and I always loved to see how high I could swing. Next to the big house, there was a large vacant lot. My grandfather, Edward Amon, Sr., planted grass, so it was like an enormous lawn. My brother, Bob, and I would run races, and play, and on summer nights, we would catch lightening bugs (fire flies).

Edward died at the age of 80, on December 19, 1964. His wife, Mary, died of acute pulmonary edema and arteriosclerotic heart disease, one month later, at the age of 78, on January 21, 1965. Mary did not know that her husband, Edward, had died. She was very ill herself, and her children thought it best not to tell her. They are both buried at Arlington Cemetery, in Drexel Hill, Delaware County, Pennsylvania. Edward's parents and most of his sisters and his brother Samuel are buried there.

Notes for MARY BERNICE TAYLOR:

MARY BERNICE TAYLOR:

My grandmother, Mary Bernice Taylor, was 53 year old when I was born. She was about 5'3" tall, rather stout, blue eyes, and gray hair. I last saw her when she was 73 years of age. She died five years later at the age of 78. She was Irish and had much affection for the old Irish Songs. She did not have much of a singing voice, but would, nonetheless, vocalize some of the old songs anyway--especially after having some refreshment. She was known to overindulge with the brew from time to time.

Her parents had come to this country, as newlyweds, from Belfast, Ireland. Mary's brothers and sisters were: Samuel, Jr.; Albert (Abe); Margaret; and Anna, who died of heart problems at age 27, Mary's; father learned the trade of "French Gardening" and did very well. He had beautiful handwriting, and would often sing Irish songs. They were Protestants. Her father referred to himself as an "Orangeman".

Mary, died of acute pulmonary edema and arteriosclerotic heart disease, on January 21, 1965, at the age of 78, one month after the death of her husband. Mary did not know that Edward had died. She had been very ill herself, and her children thought it best not to tell her. They are both buried at Arlington Cemetery, in Drexel Hill, Delaware County, Pennsylvania.

CHARLOTTE LETISHA "LOTTIE"⁶ GRENINGER (SARAH ELIZABETH⁵ WOLFE, SAMUEL⁴, JOHN (JOHANNES)³, ANTHONY², GEORGE¹) was born 03 August 1890 in Mill Hall, Centre Co., Pa., and died 30 January 1978 in Montgomery Co., Pa.. She married GEORGE DAVISH, SR. Abt. 1915 in Philadelphia, Phila. Co., Pa., son of GEORGE DAVISH and ELIZABETH BRINZER. He was born Abt. 1889, and died Abt. 1944 in Philadelphia, Phila. Co., Pa..

Notes for CHARLOTTE LETISHA "LOTTIE" GRENINGER:

CHARLOTTE LETISHA GRENINGER was commonly known as "Lottie".

She was born on August 3, 1891, at Mill Hall, Centre County, Pennsylvania. Lottie moved with her family to Philadelphia around 1901. Her father had invented the switch-track for the railroad and this took him to Philadelphia to further his ambitions. Not long after they arrived in Philadelphia, her father contracted typhoid fever and died on July 2, 1901. When Lottie was four years old, she tripped and fell against the old wood-burning stove in their kitchen at Mill Hall, and burnt the whole side of her face. It was a very bad burn and she carried the scar for the rest of her life.

She was a very small woman, about 5 feet tall. Her figure was slightly round in her later years. She had small hands and feet. She had a sweet face and was always smiling. Her eyes were blue and her hair was dark brown, with a little bit of gray in her old age. She had a twinkle in her eye, and I imagine she could be a devil when she was young. Her disposition was very pleasant, and she loved a good time. She could play the piano by ear. She never needed to read music; just hum a song and she would play it! Lottie was extremely friendly and would talk with everyone--even strangers. She loved people, and would make friends with people on the train or on the bus or wherever she went. She would go to visit them too! Lottie married George Davish, Sr., and they had two sons, to wit: George Davish, Jr., and William Davish. She outlived her husband and both sons by many years. Lottie would come to our house for visits and stay for weeks or months at a time. She loved being around family. She would tell us stories about the "old days", all the relatives, and relate some funny tales. We loved her funny sayings, like: "the sheets are as white as the driven snow". She would always go to the beauty parlor before coming for her visits, and then she would stop and buy candy to bring to us. She was always such fun to have around. Lottie lived to the age of 86, and is buried at Arlington Cemetery, Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania.

Notes for ROBERT ALLEN GRENINGER, SR.:

ROBERT "Bob" ALLEN GRENINGER, SR. (my father).

Bob was a handsome man. He was 5'10" tall; blue-gray eyes; dark brown wavy hair. He was everybody's favorite person. A natural born wit; a good dancer; loved music; lots of fun. He was highly respected for his fine mind; mathematical knowledge; and inventive abilities. He invented the half-track tank that was used in WWII; the automobile gear-shift on the steering column; along with many designs used in nuclear submarines and aircraft carriers; and nuclear power. He worked for Westinghouse Corp. and Bechtel Corp.

Bob and Elinore met on May 8, 1937, and were married on December 24, 1937.

They had a small wedding at 9:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve. They didn't have enough money for a honeymoon. Elinore's mother and sister, Edna, lived with them. They all shared a small apartment. After their first year of marriage

Bob and Elinore rented a large house in Philadelphia on Catharine Street.

Bob and Elinore were blessed with three children, to wit: Barbara Anne, b. Feb. 06, 1939; Robert Allen, Jr., b. Jun. 15, 1940; and Edward Amon, b. Aug. 17, 1944.

Bob grew up and attended school in the city of Philadelphia. When he was 18 years old, he went to work as an apprentice for the William Sellers Company. At age 20, he secured a job at the Auto-Car Company, in Ardmore, Pennsylvania, where he worked in the "Model Room" and the "Experimental Lab". Bob possessed extraordinary creative ability, and it was here that he was given the opportunity to demonstrate his inventive talents. He soon became the youngest foreman in the company's history, at the age of 24. He invented the gear-shift on the steering column of the automobile. He also invented the half-track (catapilar) tank that was used in World War II. The company made him sign a form that stated "anything he invented belonged to the company". The company did give him to honor of driving the tank in a parade up to the Park. Many military people were there, including Generals. There were newspaper articles written about this and a lot of publicity. He was about 25 years old at this time. He worked extremely long hours (from 5:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m.) plus overtime. Most of the time, he wouldn't get hom until 8:00 or 9:00 a.m.

In 1942, Bob was hired by Westinghouse Corporation. He took a cut in pay, but the hours were better, and his chances for advancement were much greater. He worked in Steam Division at first, and then worked on the Jet Planes. He then designed and worked on the atomic-powered submarines and atomic-powered aircraft carriers. He was one of the key men involved with the refurbishing of the "Enterprise". He was very well known and respected in the field of Naval Nuclear endeavors. He had to answer directly to Admiral Hymen Rickover. At one time, he even went over Admiral Rickover's head, and wrote to Washington, D. C. about certain mechanisms that he found to be unsafe on some of the submarines. He insisted that the corrections be made and the designs changed. This probably saved the lives of many of our troops. He never abused his power, but used it when necessary. He worked for Westinghouse for almost 30 years. He tried to retire after 25 years, but the company called him back after two years.

Bob was given a private underwater tour of the Skip Jack, etc., by the military, at Groton, Connecticut.

A few years after Bob went back to work for Westinghouse Corporation, the Bechtel Corporation sought him out and offered him an important position with their corporation. He accepted the job because it meant that he could move back to California and be near his children and grandchildren again. They put him in charge of the Nuclear Power project for California. He covered the area from San Francisco to San Diego. His main office was in San Francisco at first, and then later in southern California. He and my mother were extremely happy to finally move back to southern California to be near their family again.

When Bob was in his early 50's, he learned that he had arterialsclerosis. He started to have serious medical problems for the first time in his life. He had to have a tumor removed from his intestines and they took out a portion of his stomach. Up until then, he never had any serious health problems and had never been hospitalized. His doctors put dacron tubes in his legs and performed by-pass surgeries several times. At one point, they thought that his leg might have to be amputated, but fortunately, this was not necessary. He suffered terribly from all the surgeries and the periods of recuperations, but the disease finally claimed his life at the age of 61, (just 3 days after his 61st birthday).

Notes for ELINORE MARIE RICKARD:

ELINORE MARIE RICKARD

Elinore Marie Rickard was the youngest child of Charles Henry Rickard, Sr. and Sarah Marie Breitmeyer. She was born on December 20, 1919, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Her oldest sister, Helen Mae Rickard, was born January 28, 1905; her sister, Evelyn Clair Rickard, was born September 7 1906; her brother, Charles Henry Rickard, Jr. (who died before Elinore was born) arrived on September 2, 1914, and died on November 4, 1916; and her sister, Edna Florence Rickard, was born January 29, 1911.

Elinore's family, being of some means, owned an automobile, commonly known as a "machine", in the early 1900s. They were among the first in their neighborhood to have one. It was a model-T Ford, that had to be cranked, and it had curtains. In those days, when you bought a car, the salesman showed you how to drive it. There were no driver's tests or licenses then.

When Elinore was four years old, about 1922, her mother, Sarah, crashed into an iron jardiniere on Strawberry Bridge over the Schuylkill River in Fairmount Park, in Philadelphia. The front wheels went over the edge of the bridge and some Park Guards came to her rescue and pulled the car to safety. Elinore hit the windshield and cut her forehead. The Park Guards fixed her up and then took them home. Sarah never drove a car again for the rest of her life.

Charles bought his oldest daughter, Helen, a car also. She took Elinore for a ride and didn't know how to turn the car around. They rode out to the Bluebell Inn and kept going around in circles. Finally, Helen figured it out, and they made it home safely.

In the early 1920's, Charles bought a home at 4804 Market Street, Philadelphia, and moved his family into it. It was a very grand house. It had marble steps that led to the entry, then a vestibule, then a very large reception hall. In the reception hall stood a Victrola phonograph machine encased in a Baby Grand Piano. The stairway went up four or five steps to a landing, then went up to the second floor. There was a built-in safe in the wall on the landing, where Charles kept the store receipts, etc., until he deposited them in the bank. There was a formal living room; two white marble columns at the entry to the large dining room, complete with China Closet, Buffet, large dining table and chairs. A beautiful Silver Service set upon the top of the Buffet together with fresh fruit and nuts at all times. Charles was a stickler about this and insisted that the fruit be shined every day. There was a large aquarium in the shape of the Liberty Bell under the living room window. Edna and Elinore broke the Liberty Bell Aquarium while doing stunts in the living room. The breakfast room had a built-in China Cabinet too, and a built-in icebox. The kitchen had a stove, sink, laundry facilities, and broom closet. Upstairs, there was a "tile" bathroom with a shower and tub; four large bedrooms. The entire house was furnished with beautiful furniture, teakwood tables, and Tiffany lamps. Charles loved lamps and was always buying more and more. Charles had an artist come to their home and paint flowers and ribbons on the bedroom furniture. He also had his portrait painted and it hung on the wall in Elinore's bedroom. We don't know what became of that portrait.

Charles bought a "model" house from a real estate office and had it wired and gave it to his daughter, Elinore, to use for her dollhouse. Elinore loved that dollhouse.

Charles owned the Farmer's Market and operated a Butcher Shop there. The business had been in the family for three generations. Charles would go to the Abattoir at 2:00 a.m. every morning, at 30th and Market Streets, to pick out fresh meat. Sometimes, Elinore would go with him. Then he'd stop at a Speakeasy to drink whiskey on the way back. Elinore would wait in the car and honk the horn, until Charles would come out. Her father always told her not to tell anyone about it, and he would bribe her with all kinds of treats.

Charles would take his family on vacation to Margate, New Jersey. They stayed at a hotel above the Rathskeller's Bar. Elinore nearly drowned in the ocean one summer, when she was nine (9). The lifeguards rescued her. She never told her parents about it for fear they would not let her go swimming anymore. Sometimes the family would go to Chesapeake Haven, Maryland, for vacation. The hotel where they stayed was on a bluff. There was a path that led to the beach. In Maryland, at that time, if a white person were walking on the sidewalk, a colored person would immediately walk out in the street. The colored people were treated awful then. They were not permitted to use public bathrooms, or be served in restaurants, and had to ride in the back of the bus.

Charles loved to go to the movies. He would take his family and sometimes just Elinore. He would also take Elinore with him to see the "fights" (boxing matches) at 44th and Market Streets in Philadelphia. Charles loved to see the Minstrel Shows and would go see them frequently.

Elinore's older sisters convinced their mother to leave Charles. So on December 27, 1930, while Charles was at work, the family moved their clothes and little else out of the house. When Elinore, only 13 at the time, came home from school, she was shocked to learn that they were in the process of moving. She didn't have time to collect any of her personal belongings, except her clothes. They hurried so as not to be there when Charles came home from work. Home for them was to be a tiny, dark, dingy apartment between Market and Chestnut Streets, across from Losier's Ballroom. Elinore used to look out the window and watch the people dance. Later that year, Sarah and her daughters moved to Reno Street, and that's where Elinore had an appendicitis attack, or so the doctor thought. The doctor performed exploratory surgery on her when she was 13.

Sarah got a job cleaning houses; Helen and Evelyn worked as waitresses; and Edna continued at the candy store. They pooled their income to pay the bills. Elinore was still in school and not old enough to get a job. The following year, Evelyn and Helen moved out and went to live with their husbands. Sarah and Edna were the sole breadwinners of the family. They then moved into a three-story house on Samson Street, and shared it with Grandmom Breitmayer (Elizabeth Breitmayer) and Sarah's sister, Betty, and her children. Elinore was 14 year old at that time. The following year, Sarah and her two daughters moved to 62nd Street for a while, and then they moved back into their family home at 4804 Market Street. They rented the house (their former home) from the neighbors next door. Charles had left the family home and just walked away from everything. He was devastated after his family left him. It was quite a shock to him. He had no idea that his family was going to leave him. There had been no argument, fight, or any sign that they were all so unhappy. No one knows what happened to any of the personal belongings or furniture. It is believed he probably gave it away or just left it when he abandoned the home. He also let his store go about a year after the separation. He moved to Wildwood, New Jersey, and rented an apartment there for a while.

In 1931 or 1932, Charles was injured in an airplane crash in Atlantic City, New Jersey. He broke his back and had to stay in the hospital for quite a long time. Elinore was the only one from his family that went to visit him in the hospital.

Over the years that followed, Elinore was the only member of her family that saw him until he was 64 years old. He went to live with Elinore and her family for a while, until it was learned that he had tuberculosis. He then had to be hospitalized and placed in isolation. He died in Philadelphia General Hospital at the age of 65.

Elinore and Robert "Bob" Allen Greninger, Sr., were married at 9:00 p.m. on December 24, 1937 (Christmas Eve). Her mother and sister, Edna, lived with them from the day they were married. Their "Honeymoon" was a riot. The best man, Watson Akins, spent the night with the "happy couple" and Elinore's mother and sister Edna. Elinore and Bob's bed broke during the night and caused a loud noise. The only bathroom in the apartment was off the bedroom, so there was a continuous parade all night through their bedroom. Elinore wanted to demonstrate her cooking skills to her new husband. She cooked him a fried egg sandwich and when he bit into it, the egg yolk ran all over his pajamas. They had lots of laughs on their "Honeymoon".

Sarah remained very close to all her daughters throughout her lifetime. She made her permanent home with Elinore and Bob and their family, but would often visit with her other daughters. Sometimes, she would spend the summer with Evelyn at her summer home at Avalon, New Jersey, or visit Evelyn at her home on Kingsessing Avenue, West Philadelphia. Edna lived in North Philadelphia with her family, and Sarah would visit with her also. Helen lived in West Philadelphia, and Sarah and her other daughters would visit with Helen for the day, as she lived close by.

In the mid-1940s, Elinore worked for a while as a key punch operator in Philadelphia, to help with the family finances. In the 1950s, she worked for a dentist, Dr. Shad, as a dental hygienist for a couple of years.

In 1948, Elinore and Bob sold their home at 5446 Pine Street, West Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Sarah moved to 439 Wilde Avenue, Drexel Hill, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, with Elinore and her family. This was a three bedroom "twin house" in the suburbs. It was a much smaller house than the one in the city, but it was nicer in the suburbs, and had better schools. Shortly after, Edna and her family moved to Westbrook Park, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, about a mile away from Elinore and Bob's home.

In 1953, the family moved to 742 Mason Avenue, Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania. This was a large three-story house in a very nice suburban neighborhood. The family was very happy there.

In May of 1959, Bob's employer, Westinghouse Corp, transferred Bob to California. The family then moved to 422 Lucille Avenue, West Covina, Los Angeles County, California. This was a nice ranch-style home with a swimming pool. A few months later, Elinore's sister Edna, her husband Bill, and their family moved to California. They stayed with Elinore and Bob until they found a house to rent, and Bill secured a job. Then Edna and Bill moved to Alhambra, Los Angeles County, California.

Elinore and Bob traveled quite a bit and lived in several different states. They went from West Covina, California, to Willoughby, Ohio, Denver, Colorado, Decatur, Illinois; Downersgrove, Illinois; Euclid, Ohio; San Francisco, California; and finally Huntington Beach, Orange County, California.

Elinore's husband, Bob, died on March 24, 1976, at Huntington Beach, California. A little more than a year after Bob's death, Elinore started to date John Williamson. They were married in November of 1977. Elinore moved to North Shore (Salton Sea), Riverside County, California with John. Sarah and Edna remained at the mobile home in Huntington Beach, California. After Sarah died, February 23, 1984, Elinore and John sold the mobile home and Edna went to live with her son, Bill. Edna soon got an apartment of her own in San Dimas, Ca.

Las Vegas was one of Elinore's favorite places to go. She loved to play Blackjack, the slot machines and Bingo. She enjoyed traveling and was able to visit her son, Edward, in Kauau in the 1980s.

In her later years, Elinore she suffered very poor health. She had arthritis, scoliosis, underwent by-pass surgery for her heart, and removal of her breast due to cancer. Elinore was stylish in her manner of dress. She was highly respected for her knowledge and intelligence.

Elinore died on February 19, 1995 in her mobile home at Oceanside, California. She is buried with her first husband, Robert A. Greninger, Sr. at West Minster Memorial Park, West Minster, Orange Co., Ca.

507. ROBERT ALLEN⁸ GRENINGER, JR. (*ROBERT ALLEN*⁷, *EDWARD AMON*⁶, *SARAH ELIZABETH*⁵ WOLFE, *SAMUEL*⁴, *JOHN (JOHANNES)*³, *ANTHONY*², *GEORGE*¹) was born 15 June 1940 in Philadelphia, Phila. Co., Pa.. He married (1) ALTHEA JANE KRAMER 26 December 1959 in Drexel Hill, Delaware Co., Pa.. She was born 18 July 1942 in Allentown, Lehigh Co., PA.. He married (2) DIANE OLSEN Abt. 1970 in Mexico. She was born 22 April 1940.

Notes for ROBERT ALLEN GRENINGER, JR.:

Robert A. Greninger, Jr., commonly known as "Bob", is extremely handsome. He looks like the movie star "Paul Newman". All the girls flipped over him. Bob was very smart too and was a born salesman with a gift of gab. He won a scholarship to Penn State College at the time of his graduation from high school, but elected to join the US Air Force instead. He wanted to get his military duty behind him. He married his highschool sweetheart, Althea Jane Kramer, while he was in the Air Force. He was stationed at Biloxi, Mississippi, where he was chosen as Airman of the Month several times. They had a little house they rented off the base and were very happy. Bob was sent to France during his second year in the Air Force. He was able to take his wife with him. Their first child, Laurie Anne, was born in St. Miguel, France. In 1961, I flew to France for Laurie's baptism. (I am her God-mother). Bob got a military leave and the three of us and the baby toured Europe for several weeks in Bob's car (an English Ford). We had a wonderful time.

When Bob was discharged from the Air Force in 1962, he, Althea and Laurie moved to West Covina, Los Angeles County, California to join the rest of the family. Bob attended Mount San Antonio College and obtained his AA degree. He was always popular wherever he went. He didn't know a living soul when he first went to MT. SAC, but he somehow managed to get elected ASB President in 1962-63. He worked for Allstate Insurance Co. as an insurance salesman for a couple of years, and then he went to work for McNeil Laboratories, Inc. He started as a pharmaceutical salesman, and climbed the ladder to success. The company is famous for Tylenol. Bob moved to Simi Valley, CA., then to the San Diego area, and then to Dallas-Ft. Worth area of Texas. He retired from McNeil in 1996 and now has his own Consultant company. He currently resides in Argyle, Texas on his ranch. Bob and his wife, Diane, raise horses and Diane travels to horse shows, trainers, races, etc. with the horses. They have at least one race horse.

Bob and his first wife, Althea, were divorced about 1970. Bob married Diane Olsen about 1971. They lived in Semi Valley at that time, and then moved to San Diego area.

508. EDWARD AMON⁸ GRENINGER (*ROBERT ALLEN*⁷, *EDWARD AMON*⁶, *SARAH ELIZABETH*⁵ WOLFE, *SAMUEL*⁴, *JOHN (JOHANNES)*³, *ANTHONY*², *GEORGE*¹) was born 17 August 1944 in Philadelphia, Phila. Co., Pa., and died 09 February 2003 in Las Vegas, Nevada. He married (1) JOY MCALLISTER Abt. 1971 in Las Vegas, Clark Co., Nv.. She was born Unknown. He married (2) BELINDA SWEENEY 14 February 1979 in Las Vegas, Clark Co., Nv.. She was born 02 August 1955.

Notes for EDWARD AMON GRENINGER:

Edward Amon Greninger born on August 17, 1944, a very hot summer night, in the city of Philadelphia, Pa. His mother had a very difficult pregnancy with Edward and had to stay in bed during the last four months before his birth. The doctor indicated that there was a chance that either the child or his mother may not survive the birth. Therefore, Elinore refused to go to the hospital for the delivery of Edward. Her doctor set up a surgical rubber boat on the bed in the master bedroom and sterilized everything. All the windows were wide open because of the extreme heat that night. Elinore never let out a sound during her labor and the birth of the child. Both mother and child were fine after the birth and Edward weighed in at over 9 lbs. The baby had a large concaved indentation on his left leg that became a very large dark brown birthmark that he still carries to this day. This indentation was caused by a very large tumor that pressed against the baby's leg during the pregnancy. The doctor and Bob (the baby's father) lit the furnace on that extremely hot August night to burn the afterbirth, etc. Then Bob and the doctor enjoyed a strong drink in both relief and celebration of the joyous event.

Edward was a brilliant child! His parents were called to the school for consultations regarding his very high IQ. All during his school years, Ed was placed in advanced classes, when possible, or he did a lot of extra-credit work. He graduated from high school with the highest honors and awards. He went on to college, but lost interest after the first year. Ed has a thirst for knowledge and reads continually. He is self-educated on many subjects, especially history.

When Ed was in his late 20s, he moved to Hawaii. He fell in love with the island of Kauai and has made that his home in more recent years. He spent many years going back and forth between Hawaii and California. He would get what he termed "rock fever" and had to come back to the "mainland" from time-to-time. In his earlier years in Hawaii he lived in the wilderness. Ed loves nature. He found a place on the island of Kauai that could only be reached by boat or by hiking over the mountains for three days that was home to him for a few years. He lived in a tent, took showers in a water fall, and gathered fruits and berries to eat. This was when he became a vegetarian for several years. Ed disposed of all his "material possessions" at this time as he wanted a simple lifestyle. He had a Persian rug and a water bed in his tent. It took him 35 trips to the stream to get water to fill up the water bed. Hence his nickname became "Water Bed Ed". He burned incense and became a type of guru.

Ed is quick witted, a trait that he no doubt inherited from his father and his Uncle Eddie. His artistic abilities were likewise inherited from his father. Ed's imagination in creative writing and art was most unusual and outstanding! A couple of his college professors wanted to have some of his stories published, but Ed was never satisfied with his work. He never considered his work finished. Unfortunately, he has never had anything published. This is too bad as he is very gifted.

Ed likes a challenge and he loves to win! He is a big gambler with money when he has it. His friends would make bets on Ed to win at pool, chess, cards, and games of all kinds. He often bets on sports of all kinds and usually picks the winners correctly. He knows how to figure the odds. He does very well with his betting in Las Vegas too!

Ed was married twice. He first married Joy McAllister, in 1971, at Las Vegas, Nevada. They were married for two years. No children were born of his first marriage. He was divorced from his first wife in 1974. His second marriage was to Belinda Sweeney on February 14, 1979, at Las Vegas, Nevada. One son, Benjamin Ogden Greninger, was born of this marriage on February 15, 1982, at Kauai, Hawaii. He was divorced from his second wife in 1986.

of his stories published, but Ed was never satisfied with his work. He never considered his work finished. Unfortunately, he has never had anything published. This is too bad as he is very gifted.

Ed likes a challenge and he loves to win! He is a big gambler with money when he has it. His friends would make bets on Ed to win at pool, chess, cards, and games of all kinds. He often bets on sports of all kinds and usually picks the winners correctly. He knows how to figure the odds. He does very well with his betting in Las Vegas too!

Ed was married twice. He first married Joy McAllister, in 1971, at Las Vegas, Nevada. They were married for two years. No children were born of his first marriage. He was divorced from his first wife in 1974. His second marriage was to Belinda Sweeney on February 14, 1979, at Las Vegas, Nevada. One son, Benjamin Ogden Greninger, was born of this marriage on February 15, 1982, at Kauai, Hawaii. He was divorced from his second wife in 1986.

When Ed was in his late 20s, he moved to Hawaii. He fell in love with the island of Kauai and has made that his home in more recent years. He spent many years going back and forth between Hawaii and California. He would get what he termed "rock fever" and had to come back to the "mainland" from time-to-time. In his earlier years in Hawaii he lived in the wilderness. Ed loves nature. He found a place on the island of Kauai that could only be reached by boat or by hiking over the mountains for three days that was home to him for a few years. He lived in a tent, took showers in a water fall, and gathered fruits and berries to eat. This was when he became a vegetarian for several years. Ed disposed of all his "material possessions" at this time as he wanted a simple lifestyle. He had a Persian rug and a water bed in his tent. It took him 35 trips to the stream to get water to fill up the water bed. Hence his nickname became "Water Bed Ed". He burned incense and became a type of guru.

Ed died on February 9, 2003, at the Manor Medical Center in Las Vegas, Nevada. He was only there for one week. Prior to that he had spent about two months at the Nathan Adelson Hospice in Las Vegas, Nevada, where he received wonderful care during his suffering and his battle with cancer. As per his wishes, he was cremated. My brother, Bob, will take Ed's ashes to Kauai where he and Ed's son Ben will scatter them at sea -- a place where Ed had spent many happy times.

Notes for MARK CHRISTOPHER YEATER:

MARK CHRISTOPHER (YEATER) BALL:

Mark (my grandson) is a delightful young man. He is 19 now and a pleasure to be around. When he was in his early teens, he liked to rollerblade, bike ride and go on mountain hikes with his father Dennis. He enjoys fishing, boating, swimming, movies, games, and his cats. He has grown up around computers and has learned a lot from both his mother and father. He is extremely computer literate.

Mark graduated from Bonita High School, in La Verne, Ca., in 2002. After attending Citrus College in Azusa, Ca., for a semester, he decided to join the Navy. He expects to be activated for duty in May, 2003. He will be attending Culinary School while in the Navy. He worked at an Italian Deli and Catering business while in high school and loves to cook.

When he was 18, Mark was on a very popular morning radio show broadcast in Hollywood, Ca., called "The Mark and Brian Show. His appearance on this show was related to his Senior Project while still in high school. The show hosts kept teasing him about looking like Donny Osmond. They kidded him about it and told him that he should learn to sing the famous "Puppy Love" song that Donny Osmond made famous. Mark surprised all of them when on the second day he appeared on the air, he produced a CD recording of himself (Mark) singing "Puppy Love". His Aunt Lisa has a small recording studio and she obtained the back up music and recorded Mark singing. They were shocked and very pleased that he did this and they played it on the radio. He was definitely a star that day!
